It becomes my duty-to chronicle a Federa reverse in East Tennessee, of a somewhat dis actrons character. After his decisive victor over Vanghn, Gillem pursued the broken cel umns of the enemy forty-four miles, and upon the 2d inst., made his headquarters at Lime stone, a small town ninety-eight miles cast of knownile. The enemy did not immediately confront him; but making good his escape halted at Bristol, one hundred and thrity miles from Knowville. While Gen. Gillem was at Limestone, the Ninth Mehigan and Twelfth Ohio cavalry [regiments were detached and eent to the rear. About the 6th of the month Gillem learned that Breckin ridge had visited Bristol and promised Duke and Vanghn reinforcements. adding

The same paper states that it would require General Sherman sevanteen days to reach Augusta from Atlanta, or 10 to Macon and 29 to Savannah. Allowing no obstructions, it is certain his pursuit, has been nothing but a series of feluta, and that the door to West Tennesses was purposely-left open to allure the cager looks of our gallant men in that direction. Sherman will try to possess himself first of Macon. He could thus obtain command of the railroad which leads from Macon eastward to Augusta and the seas. Of Government, and westward to Mississippl, of the command of the railroad which leads from Macon eastward to Augusta and the seast of Government, and westward to Mississippl, this effectually destroying our communications with the trans-Massissippl, He would moreover cut off Hood and his army from the operations and supplies, and the means of conferring with the seat of Governmentalible, and it is no use to shat our cyces militally to the danger. EXCITEMENT IN NEW YORK Villainy on the Hampage—Five Hotels and Harmun's Museum Fired for Purposes of Robbery—The Audience at the Museum Hobbed—Arresiz.

New York, Saturday, Nov. 26.—The city was thrown into a great excitement last night by the bold sitempts of robbers and incendiaries to fire and rob five of the principal hotels and Barnour's Museum. The fires were harmonic and it is though the Colonel Walker has been appointed President of the Military Commission sitting in this city. The weather continues fine and rvorable for military operations.

Hatch's cavalry men were engaged with to the Metropolitan and engaged a room, the fire breaking out there very soon afterward. Although closely questioned, she refused to disclose the nature of her business here. Certain papers found in her room pointed so strongly to a man stopping at the Lafarget House, who was recently disclarged from Fort Lafarctte on the ground that he was as an accomplice. He was very nervous and excited when taken, and disclaimed any connection with the affair.

The manner in which the fires were produced showed a precentered plot. In the hotels like beds, clothes, trunks, &c., were covered with phosphorus. Matches were also scattered on the ceds. The fires were then set and the rooms locked. As in the July riots, the thieves avarined about the hotel doors, ready to rush in and plunder when the fire was under way, but the timely appearance of the police prevented this portion of the programme from being carried out.

The panic at the Museum was intense, but fortunately the fire was quickly subdued. The bottle containing the phosphorus was found, and is like those used by the fincendiaries elsewhere. At Winter Garden a terrible panic was created by some person simply crying fire. The entire fire department was accused, and, together with the police, measures were adopted for the safety of life and property for the remainder of the night. The attempt, which was really well planted, has failed. It has shown what might be done here or allowhere, and will inspire lacerased vigilance throughout the North.

This morning an examination of the Astor House took place to learn if any attempt had been made to fire that building, when, on Thanksgiving Arrival of Veterauslast right.
Thanksgiving was generally observed here, and especially enjoyed at Harvey Hospital, which was illuminated in the ovening.

AN DEFORTANT FACT IN REGARD TO BEEN BOOD.

(Correspondence of the N. T. World.)

There is no doubt in Washington, but that Sherman has toy this time reached Macon, sud there is no military reason why it is not now full time to make known to the public some important toyographical information, which, of course is in the possession of the Secretary of War and military sathorities here. It is of a paramount interest as showing the peculiarities of the course den. Sherman will have to pursee. There has been a great deaf of wensense in the papers about Sharizana march. In con Branchtile, S. C., and other places, against which there is not the bightest military reasons why he should operate; but the truth is, that the territory, over which there is not the plaightest military reasons why he should operate; but the truth is, that the territory, over which there may be an official teampaigning country in the world, and one in which hose are envised the sample conformation of the country introduced the sample conformati

The circle of the property of the course purpued by forward Newton Revenue and Other Schild cache corps will have its amountion and provision frain, distributed habitually as follows: Rehind cach regiment should follow one wagon and one ambulances; behind each brigade should follow a due proportion of ambulances. In case of danger, each army corps should the harper this order of march by baving his advance and rear brigade unencumbered by wheels. The separate columns will start habitually at seven a ma, and make about fifter the miles per day, unless otherwise fixed in orders.

TV. The army will forage liberally on the country during the march. To this end, each brigade commander will organize a good and sufficient foraging party, under the command of one or more discreet officers, who will gather near the route traveled corn or forage of any kind, meat of any kind, vegetables, corn meat, or whatever is needed by the command; alming at all times to keep in the wagon trains at least len days provisions for the command and three days forage. Soliders must not enter the of wellings of the linkbit ant or committany treepase; during the halt or a camp they may be permitted to gather turnips, potatoes and other vegetables, and dive in shock in front of their champs. jugation and conquest, but to devastation and ruin, as fir as possible, and to a new base on the coast.

The bill just passed by the Senate will enable the authorities to concentrate an auxiliary force in front of Sherman, and bring up reinforcements to the army that will dispute his march to the coast. The people of Georgia have now the opportunity of rivalling the people of Old Virginia. The enemy is in earnest marching through their State. If they will oppose bim in front, harrass his funks, hang upon his rear, retard his advance, capture and destroy his foregers, burn all stores in the line of his march that cannot be renoved, the disgrace of the march through the Confederacy to the Guif or Atlantie will be saved, our country, and Georgia and Georgians will reap the reward of unfading glory, as well as secure their unstional interest. Sherman has taught them how he makes war; he has given them to understand that what he leaves behind him will be of very little use to them; einders and asher alone mark the site of Atlants, and her exised people are wandering among their friends. The same fate awaits every other city and the inhabitants that may fall into his hands. Since, them, there is no prospect of ever regaluing more than the rains be may pass over. The Grecery market is very sative, and under light stocks and the increasing activity, prices file very strong, and on leading articles there is a fieling loward a higher range of prices. For the present we make no alteration in quotations.

There is no lifts in the Tobacco market. Stocks are large—authanted to last for fully him months—and trade is confined explastively to the current value of dealers. There is no movement in the speculative way.

There is nothing doing in Purs, as shippers and dealers are anxiously writing the result of the an inial fair jat Leipsic—the greet for emportum of Roroga. For the present we unfit quotations.

LAXEED.

In the afternoon the Whent market, under the influence of the advance in gold, was dimer, and No 2 Spring was sold at $1.60—an advance of $1.60 and $1.00 and $1.00

New York, Saturday, Nov. 26.—The places set fire to last night were the St. Nicholas, St. James, Lafarge, Astor House, Lovejoy's Hotel, Belmont House, and Barnum's Muse-um, none of which were much damaged, but it caused great consternation to the occupants of the hotels and the audiences at the Winter arden and Barnum' Museum.

pleion of being concerned in the incendiarism last night, arrived in the city but a few days from Baltimore, and ipok a room at the St. Nicholas. Last night, just before the fire broke out there, she went to the Lafarge House, stayed a short time, and left just before the fire broke out there. She then went to the Metropolitan and engaged a room, the fire breaking out there very soon afterward. Although closely questioned, she refused to disclose the nature of her business here. Certain papers found in her room pointed so strongly to a man stopping at the Lafarge House, who was recently discharged from Fort Lafarette on the ground that he was a British subject, that he was also arrested as an accomplice. He was very nervous and excited when taken, and disclaimed any connection with the affair.

The manner in which the fires were produced showed a preconcerted plot. In the hotels the beds, clothes, trunks, &c., were covered with phosphorus. Matches were also scattered on the beds. The fires were then est and the rooms locked. As in the July riots, the thieres swarmed about the hotel doors, ready to rush to and plunder when the fire was under way, but the timely appearance of the police prevented this portion of the programme from being carried out.

The panic at the Museum was intense, but fortunately the fire was quickly subdaed. The bottle containing the phosphorus was found, and s like those used by the incendiaries elsewhere. At Winter Garden a terrible panic was created by some person simply crying fire. The entire fire department was aroused, and, together with the police, measures were adopted for the safety of life and property for the remainder of the night. The attempt, which was really well plantant and the safety of life and property for the remainder of the night. missaures were adopted for the safety of life and property for the remainder of the night. The attempt, which was really well plan-ned, has failed. It has shown what might be done here or elsewhere, and will inspire in-creased vigilance throughout the North. This morning an examination of the Astor House took place to learn if any attempt had been made to fire that 'building, when, on opening room No. 204, an immense volume of smoke poured out into the hall. The fire had been smouldering through the night.

The Augusta Constitutional of Monday even-ing, says that passengers by the Georgia road train last evening, reported that the Oconee bridge, five miles from Gordon, was burned at noon yesterday, by a small party of the ene-my's cavalry, who retired after they burned the bridge, to their camp on the north side of the river. The force of the enemy on the line of this road is estimated at 15,000, and advancing slowly and cautionaly. advancing slowly and cautionaly.

Capt. Baker, of the Livingston, says it was reported before he left that Sherman occupied Macon, and that there were 2,200 prisoners at Macon on the way to Savannah to be exchanged, but, the road being interrupted, they could not be brought through; otherwise the exchange was going on well.

New Youx, Saturday, Nov. 26.—According to the latest rebel papers Sherman's demonstration towards Macon was a feint. No at tack had been misde on that place up to Wednesday last, but when a short distance from it he turned north-eastward towards Milledgeville, the capital of the State, which town, it is reported, his cavalry captured last Sunday night, subsequently burning the capitol building and the peniteulary. Augusta is also considered a feint to distract attention from Sherman's first real objective point, which is surmised to be Savannah. It is prophesied that he will move as directly as possible on the latter city from Miledgeville, and the belief is expressed that the large Union fleet which has been collected in James river is destined for Savannah, and will meet Sherman there.

The Enquirer of the 24th save that a repet no news.

The Engairer of the 34th awa that a repetition of the rumor concerning the occupation of Milledgeville by Sherman, occurred yesterday, and as the rumor, whether correct or not, was accepted as a matter of course, we may suppose for the cake of hypothesis as to the situation in Georgia, that the city haftlen. Of course there could have been no determined resistance. This supposition gives color to the rumor that a strong force of the enemy made a demonstration on Augusta, within twenty miles of which place, it is reported, they were encountered by our troops; that their left was driven back in confusion, and an assault by their right repulsed with severe loss. Savannah being their objective point, the movement can only be called a faint, with the view of raiding on Augusta and destroying it. It is believed that the large feet which has been in preparation in the James river for some time past is intended to co-operate with Sherman.

The Whig of the 34th says: There seems to be nothing definite from Georgia. The prevailing impression, based upon all the information thus far received, is, that Sherman has passed Macon, and that he will move towards the coast without hazarding an attack on the defenses of Augusta. He will, of course, desolate the country through which he passes. Now, if Sherman has re ity attempted so wild a manmont read, unless we are greatly to Georgia, and conidentity expect great results.

The Whig editorially says: We do not understand precisely why it is that the Yankees go into cestacies of delight and admiration over Sherman's movements, unless it be that they are bound to consider themselves the over Sherman's movements, unless it be that they are bound to consider themselves the greatest and smartest people in all creation, and it is, therefore, a matter of principle with them to declare that Sherman's movement is the grandest, ablest, and profoundest of this or any other war. But we must confess we do not see it as the Yankees see it. We do not see it as the Yankees see it. We do not see it as the Yankees see it. We do not see it as the Yankees see it. Most of the conspirators were officers in the rebel army, and had served as guerillas in Kentucky and Missouri. The movements of the incendiaries were arrang ed very uniformly. At each of the hotels they appeared in the character of travelers desiring rooms for a few days. They carried small black leather valless unit a feetil form across-LOTHS, CASSIMERES AND popeared in the character of traverse dearing rooms for a few days. They carried small black leather valless, put a fictitious name on the hotel books, and carried their own baggage to their rooms. The hotels so far discovered to be on fire are the Astor, Belmont, Hotel Hanna, Lovejoy's, Tammany, Metropolitan, St. Nicholas, Fifth Arenue, Unified States, New England Lafarge, and St. James. The original plan was to simultaneously fire hotels at the lower and upper portions of the city, and while the fire department and police had their attention attracted to these portions of the city, to fire hotels and other public buildings at more central points. The next step would have been to have fired shipping, beginning with hay barges alongside ships and steamers. During this, three of the gang were to attempt the destruction of the iron-clads now in the harbor. They had provided themselves with numerous appliances, TUCKER'S PATENT SPRING BEDS TUCKER'S PATENT. Gen. Dix has issued two orders—one requirings all foutherners in the city to register themselves, and another in which he declares these thechdiaries to be engaged in a secret act of hostility, and that they can only be regarded as spice, subject to martial law and to the penalty of death. If they are detected he says they will immediately be brought before a military tribunal, and if convicted they will be executed without the delay of a single day.

In his Macon speech he stated that Lee's army was numerically smaller in proportion to Grant's than Hood's has been relatively to Shorman's. Sherman's official report shown his forces to have been about 88,000 at the close of his campaign, while Hood's was about $2,000. The Richmond correspondence of the London Twas and other papers dolefully confirm the same state of facts, though in language which hauds southern valor. The timid and cautious manner in which Lee has managed the entire campaign since his exhausting strongle at Spottayivania, confirms the same impression. He would not confine himself to his fortifications, which give him the strength of five or six to one against a direct assault, miles fit were necessary. Add to this that the rebut strength at Richmond, as estimated af our own headquarters, and founded on the most reliable information, is had little more than half that above presented.

The estimate of Sherman's command at 50,000 and that of Beauregard at 45,000 is equally disproportionate. The former, before detaching Thomas, was not less than one hundred thousand. The effect of these hasidi.

FROM EAST TENNESSEE. The Battle Between Gillem and Breckturidge.

over Yangha, Gillem pursued the broken columms of the seams forty-four miles, and upon the 3d inste, made his beadquarters at Limestone, a small town minety-eight miles castof Knoxville. The earmy did not immediately confront him; but making good his eccape, halted at Bristol, one hundred and thirtymiles from Knoxville. While Gen Gillem was at Limestone, the Ninth Miedigan and Twelfth Ohio cavalry lregiments were detacked and sent to the rear. About the 8th of the month Gillem learned that Breckinridge had visited Bristol and promised Duko and Vangha reinforcements, adding, as I wrote you once before, that Gillem should be wiped out, and the "assassination of Morgan" be avenged.
On the 7th, large squads of the enemy's cavalry hovered about our fanks, and on the next day several regiments of infantry presented themselves upon our immediate front.
From this fact Gillem deemed his situation precarious, made doubly so by the late with drawal of two veteran regiments, one of which was armed with the Spencer rifice,) and he ordered a retirement of his entire command toward Bully Gap, which commenced on the night of the 8th inst.

The enemy's advance skirmished with our rear the next day, and on the 10th, several trifling encounters took place along the road between Greenville and Bull's Gap. On the morning of the 11th, an immense force dashed

On the morning of the Lith, an immense force dashed into our works at the Gap, and attempted to carry the position by storm, at the same time annoying as upon both flanks. After two hours' fighting the enemy abandoned his attempt to earry the place by assault, and retired in the direction he came. In this affair we lost eight kitled and almeteen wounded, while the enemy's loss was mach more severe. On the next day, Saturday, the 12th linat the enemy appeared in great force upon Gillem's left flank, evidentity endeavoring to get between their force and their lase. Perceiving this, and realizing the great disparity of numbers between his and the attacking army, Gillem order the retreat to be conducted as rapidly as due precaution for safety and discipline would allow. While this retirement was being conducted, the enemy followed up at a respectful distance, occasionally firing a few shots, but otherwise acting in a decidedly undemonstrative manner. The next day, Sunday, the 13th linst, a few more miles were made Knoxville ward, the enemy, as herefolore, still acting siyl. On the night of the 14th our little army, composed of the Eight, Ninth and Thirteenth Tennessee Cavalry Regiments, and a battery of six Farrott guns, under Lieut, Patterson, encamped at a place called Fanther's Creek, near Morristown, 42 miles east of Knoxville. The exact number of men under Gillem was less than 2,400, but as he had sent to Knoxville for reinforcements on the 10th, he fully expected assistance before morning.

THE CITY.

Editors Tribume:

This morning I left the city by the St. Louis train on the Chicage and St. Louis railroad. The train boy refused to sell the TRIBUNE; for less than ten cents. Fifteen minutes before the train started a gentleman wanted a TRIBUNE; the boy asked the above mentioned price for his papers, saying at the same time, that he paid 4j cents each for them at the TRIBUNE of the purpose of trying him, content to the train started, I, for the purpose of trying him, collection for a TRIBUNE, in the Was his shatement true?

If it was, have nothing more to say. But if it was taked, then the boy ought to be looked after. The above statement I have made it literally true.

Naw York, Nov. 26.—The Herele's New Orleans correspondent says: On the 18th Inst. a Union expedition went into the Lafourche district of Louisiana, attacked and defeated a rebel force and destroyed their camp and laggage and a number of boats.

It is said that Allen, who assumes to be the rebel Governor of Louisiana, has organized at Shreveport, in that State, ten regiments of negroes, who will be armed and equipped from the proceeds of cotton sales at Matamoras. There is a report that the rebel Gen. Buckner had 10,000 men at Alexandria, La., where there are said to be abundant supplies of beef and corn.
